Do I Want That Mind?

by Marc Corazao

“Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God as something to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, being born in human likeness. And being found in human form, he humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death – even death on a cross.”

Philippians 2:5-8

I want to have the mind of Christ! Don't you want to have the mind of Christ? I mean, think of all the things you would get with that: a calm in the midst of storms, a faith that enables you to walk on water, a clever wit to come back at those mean ol' Pharisees when they're trying to trap you, a bold authority to take on demons on their home turf... Yeah, that's what I want!

So, what's all this “emptying” and “humbling” and “slavery” and “obedience” and “death” talk about? Jesus, don't you understand? I'm trying to get my life right here. I'm trying to follow your way so that I can receive my inheritance, my blessing as it flows from you. I'm trying to live for you so that you will save me from pain and struggle and slavery and death, so that you will provide me and my family with a sense security that is free from physical threats and financial woes!

No wonder Peter pulled you aside to rebuke you when you talked about your own death. That's no way for our Leader, our Savior to talk! We need bold, decisive vision that shows us the good life, not life that leads to suffering and persecution. I mean, Jesus... I'm your disciple! Does that mean you want me to be a slave too, to be humbled and persecuted and die too? “Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus.” Is that some kind of sick joke?

... But what do I do with all of those people who have no choice? What do I do when I continually encounter those who were born into a life of slavery, born into poverty, born in humble means, born into a life surrounded by persecution and death? Jesus, you saw them too, didn't you? And you saw me, living a life of what I called security, shackled by the comfort of my couch. And so to give us what we need and not what we want, you gave up all your wants to do what was needed. Coming down from the glory of heaven... being born a king who lies in a manger... being carried in your parents arms as you flee for your life... growing up as an unknown carpenter... walking headlong into dangerous waters with the outcasts and religious leaders so that you could bring true life to those who would listen, who could listen... walking straight into the arms of those who would have you beaten and crucified... all so that we could find life again rather than the illusion of life we have been living.

I want to truly know my sister, my brother. I want to be willing to give up everything I have to find everything we need. I want to be ready to die so that I can truly live. I want to have the mind of Christ.

Help us solve this problem!

Reading the Bible Daily

As you seek to grow closer to God through daily prayer and Bible study, you may have your own favorite daily readings. If not, you will find Scriptures for each day listed below. We hope you'll read daily and ask yourself: "How will I be different today because of what I just read?" Some other questions you might ask are: "What does this text say about who God is?" "What does this text say about who I am/who we are as human beings?" "What does this text say about our relationship with God?" You may want to reflect on paper with a journal or note pad. We hope this will become a part of your daily prayer time.
